Dear Mr. Johnston and Ms. Johnston:

It is a pleasure to thank you and F3 + R Inc. for the recent gift to benefit the Timothy A. Johnston Fund for Precision Medicine Research.

Your generosity will have a far-reaching impact on the School's ability to continue its mission of preparing healers and transforming health, while ensuring our medical programs remain robust well into the future. Through this gift, you will help provide our faculty, including Dr. Bryan Schneider and Dr. Milan Radovich, with the resources they need to conduct groundbreaking research in precision medicine. I equally appreciate how meaningful this fund is for you personally, as it honors your son, Tim, and seeks to help others receive the type of cutting-edge care from which he is benefitting. This is indeed a noble effort that is very much appreciated by Indiana University and the cancer patients you are enabling us to help. It is because of people like you who care so deeply for Indiana University and the health of our world that these fine individuals are equipped to address the most critical health challenges of today and enable a healthier tomorrow.

Once again, thank you for investing in the future of Indiana University and for supporting our faculty researchers in their important work to make life better for patients everywhere. Please also accept my best wishes to your son for good health and to your entire family for a happy and productive new year.

Yours sincerely,
